DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

The drawings are objected to because the valve plug (5) in Figures 1-3 should be illustrated with cross-hatching so that the element can be differentiated from the flow passages and the stem (4). Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: The specification is missing the customary U.S. patent headings, e.g. "Background of the Invention," "Brief Description of the Drawings," etc.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Objections

Claim 13 is objected to because of the following informalities: In line 2 of the claim, "out-let" should be spelled "outlet." Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-5 and 7-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Newberg (US 7,389,792). The patent to Newberg discloses in Figure 14 a sampling valve comprising a first valve plug (182), a second valve plug (181), a sample inlet surrounded by a first valve seat (186), a valve chamber (176) formed within the valve, a second valve seat (183), an outlet (253) from the valve chamber (176), the outlet being positioned between the two valve seats (181, 186) and an inlet (125) in the valve chamber. The first and second valve plugs (182, 181) are independently displaceable by means of a first and second valve spindle (104, 105), respectively, col. 21, lines 61-66. As shown in Figure 3, the sampling valve is placeable on a container (102). Newberg teaches providing a cleaning fluid through the inlet passage (25) and out the outlet passage (69) in order to clean or sterilize the valve assembly, col. 11, lines 6-10. In view of the teaching of Newberg, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide a cleaning fluid at the either the inlet (125) or the inlet (251) of the embodiment of Figure 14 for the purpose of cleaning or sterilizing the valve assembly.
